Currie Group - Remote Support Safety Disclaimer

By initializing this remote support session, you agree to the following:

1. You will ensure that no one is near or approaching the machine and its danger zones during the remote support session.
2. You are authorized to operate and maintain the machine.
3. The machine has not been modified in any way that could impair its safety or operation.
4. You are responsible for complying with the local EHS (Environmental, Health and Safety) laws and you will not perform any action which contradicts these laws.
5. You shall use all appropriate protective equipment as defined in the machine manuals, PrintCare wizards and your company's EHS instructions.
6. Remote support will be given to you in English or in your local language and you will not perform any task unless you fully understand the instructions given.
7. You are currently in control of the machine. Remote control will only be possible after you confirm the remote request by pressing the 'OK' button.
